

Sing

© Kate Callahan & Kristen Graves 2017

Have you ever asked yourself
Why am I here?
Is it to learn, to teach
Does it change every year
(Now that you're here)

Whether your song makes the charts or you're paralyzed on stage We've seen it all, this is folk things happen at any age
(Now that we're here)

So won't you sing, sing along
Clarity comes in the words of a song
Keep it simple, keep it strong
And let our time here be a bridge we build on Won't you sing...sing along

Have you ever asked yourself
What can I do?
Is lifting my voice enough
Can my words break through (That's why I'm here)

With each note we sing, we stand asking the world to heal Letting our hope run wild staying grounded in what's real (That's why we're here)

So won't you sing, sing along
Clarity comes in the words of a song

Keep it simple, keep it strong
And let our time here be a bridge to build on Won't you sing...

Now that we're here
the call to sing connects us all as our vision cuts ever more clear to wake the heart and feel

So won't you sing, sing along
Clarity comes in the words of a song
Keep it simple, keep it strong
And let our time here be a bridge we build on
Won't you sing... sing along